

XLViewer

Secure and Contained Report Viewing

Searching for a secure, reliable program for viewing complete Excel and PDF
reports?

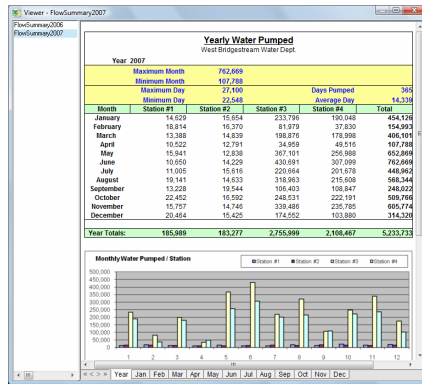

XLViewer is it.

“XLViewer is a great tool for viewing Excel
workbooks in a tightly constrained operator environment such as the automation industry.”

Microsoft Product Manager

Secure Viewing

Viewing Excel and PDF reports is finally easy and secure. XLViewer provides a configurable viewing environment to suit every user's needs.

Safe, secure Excel report viewer

XLViewer restricts users to the reports they are permitted to see. This level of security is fully configurable during the setup of the product. By having this information at user's fingertips, it allows your process to run better and improves plant operations.

Information for Everybody

The secure environment of XLViewer allows you to safely share the power of Excel between the plant floor, the engineering department and the front office.

XLViewer lets users browse reports and print their contents without worrying about data alterations or undesired system access.

Organized for Easy Viewing

XLViewer allows for the grouping of reports. Each group of reports is categorized for quick access for those who need to see them.

Now operators, engineers and even management can quickly and easily view their own reports in a single complete viewing environment.

View from Anywhere

XLViewer is designed for the rigors of plant floor use. It provides the ideal window for viewing Excel and PDF reports from HMI systems or in stand-alone viewing applications. It offers a structured environment and a customizable set of features that control the information that is displayed, the window behavior, and how a user interacts with the information.

XLViewer wraps the unprotected file format of Microsoft Excel with user appropriate capabilities, tailoring the Viewer for your application.

SyTech, "The Report Company", develops software for reporting and database management systems.

If you are interested in The Complete Solution that gives you immediate payback, contact: (508) 520-9XLR.

Visit www.TheReportCompany.com and get your evaluation copy today!